

The Big Sister of the Fundy Isles – Grand Manan

Grand Manan is the largest island in the Bay of Fundy, sitting where the Bay of Fundy meets the Gulf of Maine. Grand Manan Island has a unique and varied geology. Did you know that on Red Point Beach, you can find magnetic sand? And that some people have found amethyst, agate, zeolites and copper on Grand Manan? Grand Manan is a well-known birdwatchers' paradise. John James Audubon once lived on Grand Manan. You've never seen any place quite like Grand Manan Island where nature, history and tradition have cooperated to make this island unique. Your visit can be as quiet or as exciting as you wish! You can count on being a world away from city life and an ocean away from the everyday. Drive/Ferry time: 4:15 min + exploring time!

Please note limited services of gas stations on the island so please make sure you gas up.
